Federal inmate indicted for murder

by Lilly Adkins
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

PIKEVILLE — A former United States Penitentiary Big Sandy inmate was indicted Sept. 6 for the murder of a fellow inmate in 2009.

Arraignment for John Travis Millner is scheduled for Sept. 26 in U.S. District Court at Ashland.

Millner, 31, who is now an inmate at a federal prison in Lewisburg, Pa., is charged in the indictment with murder by a federal prisoner serving a life sentence and first-degree murder.

According to the indictment, on Jan. 28, 2009, Millner, while confined in the federal prison in Martin County under a sentence for a term of life imprisonment, did with “malice aforethought, kill another human being, to wit, Vincent E. Smith Jr., which killing is murder as defined in 18 U.S.C. 1111(a).”

At the time of the killing, The Big Sandy News reported information posted on the Council of Prison Local 33 Web site, but the names of the individuals involved in the incident were not released at the time.

The Web site said an inmate assault occurred in a two-man cell at approximately 4:56 p.m. on Jan. 28, 2009.

“One man began stabbing another inmate in the head, neck and back area,” the report said. “Responding staff arrived and the inmate dropped his homemade weapon, a shank and gave up. The inmate that was stabbed was transported to a local hospital where he was pronounced dead.”

Floyd Co. collision kills two

BSN Staff Report

MOUSIE — A state probation and parole officer was injured Monday when he was shot while he and fellow officers attempted to serve a warrant on a man in Knott County.

Brian Melvin, who is a Johnson County resident, was shot in the arm in the Monday incident at Mousie, according to a press release from the Kentucky State Police post in Hazard.

KSP Post 13 officers received a call at 1:05 p.m. Monday of shots fired in the Mousie community, the release said. Officers from the KSP, Commercial Vehicle Enforcement and the Knott County Sheriff's Office, along with Trans Star Ambulance EMS, responded to the scene.

Officers determined that probation and parole officers attempted to serve a warrant on Rocky Wicker Jr., the press release said.

Melvin approached the residence when Rocky Wicker Sr. “opened fire on Melvin, striking him in the arm,” the release said.

“Wicker also reportedly fired additional shots at the state vehicle that was occupied by three other Probation and Parole Officers,” the release said. “Officer Melvin returned fire, but Mr. Wicker was not injured. The four P&P officers were able to flee on foot, to the PAINTSVILLE — One of two former Martin County deputy clerks who pleaded guilty in August was formally sentenced in Johnson Circuit Court Friday and the other was rescheduled for Sept. 19 in Martin Circuit Court after asking for a delay to allow her time to accompany her daughter to a specialist due to a newly discovered health issue.

Tonya Mills, 47, was originally charged with abuse of public trust greater than $10,000 but in the plea agreement was amended to less than $10,000.

Tamberlyn Hairston is charged with abuse of public trust under $10,000 and four counts of second-degree criminal possession of a forged instrument.

The plea agreements recommended a five-year prison sentence for each of the women.

On Friday, Mills was sentenced to serve five years and was also given credit for 154 days served to that date.

Hairston asked the court for mercy to allow her to attend her juvenile daughter's first specialist visit and provided proof of her daughter's illness.

Hairston explained that she had only learned

School bus wrecks in Johnson

by Lilly Adkins
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

PAINTSVILLE — No injuries were reported at the time of a collision Wednesday, Sept. 4, involving a Johnson County school bus with 13 children on board and a semi-truck.

A press release issued by the Johnson County Sheriff's Office said officers responded to a two-vehicle accident on Ky. 3224, Wiley Branch Road, Wednesday involving the bus and semi -truck.

Barry Hornbuckle, 46, of Gruetli-Laager, Tenn., was driving west bound on Ky. 3224 when his vehicle crossed the center line, and he attempted to avoid the bus, driven by Tracy Robinson, 43, of River, but was unable to do so, the release said.

Information wasn't available at press time regarding why Hornbuckle crossed the center line nor whether there were any charges in the case.

Robinson tried to avoid the collision once the truck was seen crossing the center line and steered the bus to the right to avoid the truck but was unable to get clear due to a guardrail on the west bound side of the roadway, according to the release.

The truck sideswiped the school bus, causing minor damage to the bus, which was hauling 13 children at the time of the collision, the release said.

The incident is under investigation by chief deputy Kevin Pelphrey.

AUTHORITIES SAY NO one was injured in a Sept. 4 crash involving a Johnson County school bus. Thirteen students were on board at the time of the incident on Wiley Branch Road. Photo/Johnson County Sheriff's Office

REPORT: Martin County Grand Jury critical of officers

the grand jury were returned as true bills and one case was bound over to the next Martin County Grand Jury Oct. 3.

“The Grand Jury has determined that the attached (21) cases need to be presented to the Martin County Grand Jury by the responsible officer on Oct. 3, and will issue subpoenas on today’s date (Sept. 5),” the report said. “Should these cases not be presented or accounted for at Martin Co. Grand Jury on Oct. 3, it is our recommendation that these officers be held in contempt of the Martin Circuit Court.”

Martin County Sheriff Garmon Preece was out of town Monday for a sheriff’s conference but said via telephone that officers will get done by Oct. 3.

“There are some cases that were overlooked and not presented, but there are two or three that we have reasons for, and one of them is deceased,” Preece said. “Some of the individuals have been served with arrest warrants. There are no excuses, this is what we got and we have got to deal with it, and it will be dealt with by the first Thursday in October.”

Named in indictments issue Sept. 5 were:

- Glen Horn, 53, of Louisville, charged with first-degree sexual abuse of a child less than 12 years of age and first-degree sexual abuse of a child less than 16 years of age.

According to the indictment, on or about Aug. 1, 2007, Horn allegedly knowingly and unlawfully subjected a person less than 12 years of age to sexual contact. On or about Apr. 1, 2011, he subjected a person less than 16 years of age to sexual contact by forcible compulsion, the indictment says.

- Shawn Moore, 34, of Inez, charged with second-degree criminal possession of a forged instrument.

According to the indictment, on Jan. 17, Moore allegedly knowingly and unlawfully was in possession of a forged check for the amount of $3,830 cashed at Evan’s Pawn Shop in Inez with the intent to defraud.

- Tony Griffith, 36, of Louisa, charged with receiving stolen property over $500 (firearm).

According to the indictment, on or before May 1, Griffith allegedly knowingly and unlawfully was in physical possession of a Remington 870 Wingmaster shotgun stolen from Eunice Burgess of Louisa with a value exceeding $500.

- Tonya M. Maggard, 43, and Steve Lockhart, 38, both of Tomahawk, charged with prescription of a controlled substance not in the proper container/complicity. Maggard is additionally charged with failure to produce insurance.

According to the indictments, on or before Jan. 29, Maggard and Lockhart, acting alone or in complicity with each other, were allegedly, knowingly and unlawfully in possession of a schedule II controlled substance not in the proper administered container and Maggard also allegedly did not properly produce insurance verification for the motor vehicle she was operating as defined in KRS 304.39-117.

- Bradley Preece, 28, and Joseph Isaac Dillon, 33, both of Warfield, charged with receiving stolen property under $500/complicity.

According to the indictment, on or before Sept. 11, 2012, Preece and Dillon, acting alone or in complicity with each other, allegedly knowingly and unlawfully were in possession of 200 feet of copper wire and two heavy equipment batteries stolen from Norfolk Southern Railroad.

Editor’s note: An indictment is not an indication of guilt but a determination by a grand jury that criminal charges warrant further judicial review.

about the illness the previous week and that tests showed her daughter had a tumor.

The court granted Hairston mercy and allowed her to continue to remain free until Sept. 19, at which time she will be formally sentenced.

Hairston and Mills were indicted in December 2012 on charges of abuse of public trust shortly after State Auditor Adam Edelen released the findings of an audit of the clerk’s 2011 financial statement and found a number of problems, not only with the 2011 financial statement but also in a review of the 2012 accounts in which more than $16,000 in un-deposited cash receipts were discovered.

Mills and Hairston were fired from their job by their mother, County Clerk Carol Sue Mills, in August 2012 after funds were reportedly found missing from the office.

According to her indictment, on or before Jan. 9 through July 14, 2012, Mills obtained and dealt with public money or property subject to a known legal obligation to make a specified payment or disposition as her own, by intentionally failing to make the required payment or disposition of the property when she retained for her use funds of the clerk’s office in an amount over $10,000.

According to Hairston’s indictment, on or about March 17, 2011, through June 21, 2012, Hairston, also known as Tammy Perry, obtained and dealt with public money or property subject to a known legal obligation to make a specified payment or disposition as her own, by intentionally failing to make the required payment or disposition of the property when she retained for her use funds of the clerk’s office in an amount under $10,000.

On Oct. 15, 2011, Hairston was allegedly in possession of a forged check made to Kathy Preece in the amount of $350, with the intent to defraud; on Oct. 21, 2011, she was allegedly in possession of a forged check made to Tim Smith in the amount of $175 with the intent to defraud; on Oct. 28, 2011, she was in possession of a forged check made to Kathy Preece in the amount of $420 with the intent to defraud; and on Nov. 11, 2011, she was in possession of a forged check made to Kathy Preece in the amount of $320 with the intent to defraud.

The missing funds have reportedly been paid back to the clerk’s office.

FATALITY: Two die of injuries from Floyd crash

the collision occurred on U.S. 23/ KY Rt. 3384 when McConnell, driving a 1999 Pontiac, pulled into the path of a 2009 Chevrolet pickup truck being driven by Alvin Jarrell of 11767 KY Rt. 194 in Prestonsburg.

The boy and Adam C. Kinder, 38, were passengers in McConnell’s vehicle.

Jarrell was traveling north on U.S. 23 at the time of the collision, the report said.

Both McConnell and Floyd were transported to Cabell Huntington Hospital in Huntington, W.Va., for treatment. McConnell died Friday and Floyd died Monday, the report said.

The incident is under investigation by the Prestonsburg Police Department, which is asking for anyone who witnessed the accident to come forward and call the department at (606) 886-1010.

The Prestonsburg Police Department was assisted at the scene by the Prestonsburg Fire Department, the Floyd County Sheriff’s Office, Trans-Star Ambulance, Kentucky State Police and Commercial Vehicle Enforcement.

Information about funeral services was not available by press time Tuesday.

PRISON: Inmate indicted for murder

No staff injuries were reported in the incident.

Smith was the third inmate to have been killed since the Martin County facility opened. The first occurred Oct. 24, 2006, when Terrell Lamar Johnson stabbed Kevin Speight multiple times with a six-inch piece of metal that had been sharpened to a point authorities said at the time, according to court records.

Less than a month later, the second slaying occurred.

On Nov. 13, 2006, inmate Shamoni Peterson was pronounced dead at Highlands Regional Medical Center. The Floyd County coroner said a preliminary autopsy showed that Peterson died from traumatic asphyxia due to compression of the chest, nose and mouth.

He also said Peterson was beaten to death and choked by what he believed was a large man because an impression had been left in his chest.

The U.S. Attorney’s Office said Tuesday “Per Department of Justice Policy we can only comment on information contained in the indictment.”

Johnson sheriff probes burglaries

by Lilly Adkins
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

HAGER HILL — The Johnson County Sheriff's Office is seeking the public's help in obtaining information regarding a string of burglaries in the Hager Hill area of Johnson County during the month of August.

The burglaries occurred at Ben's Tires, the Big Sandy Community and Technical College Hager Hill Campus, Apple Valley Sanitation, Christian Appalachian Project and Martin's of Paintsville.

A press release by the sheriff's office said video footage of the suspects in action has been obtained from Apple Valley Sanitation, Christian Appalachian Project and Big Sandy Community and Technical College.

Authorities have sent the footage to the FBI Laboratory in Louisville for enhancement, which sharpens "fuzzy" images and makes it easier to identify the suspects more accurately, the release said.

"I just sent the video on Friday, so we haven't gotten anything back on it yet, and although the images were fuzzy, we could make out that there were four males and that they were tall and slender," Johnson County Sheriff's Deputy David Pridemore said. "They actually took a tractor-trailer, but it was recovered the next day in Pike County. They broke into the trailers at Christian Appalachian Project and took tools, about $100,000 worth. They took a pull trailer from the Big Sandy Community and Technical College, but it was also recovered. There was also a load of scrap on the back of the trailer, but that wasn't recovered. They cut a hole in the fence at Hager Hill College."

The case is under investigation by Pridemore and fellow deputies Terry Tussey and Kenneth Prater.

Anyone with information in the case is advised to contact the Johnson County Sheriff's Office at (606) 789-3411; callers will remain anonymous.

Work begins on Allen bridge

ALLEN — Work began last week on the U.S. 23 bridge at Allen, just north of the traffic signals at the intersection with Ky. 1428.

Rotating lane closures are in the outside southbound lane, and the area will be a reduced speed work zone for at least two months.

The low bid on the contract was $493,286.00 from Bush & Burchett.

Matt Moore, Prestonsburg section engineer for Highway District 12, said that the work involves milling off about two inches of the concrete deck and replacing it with latex concrete.

"This will make a much smoother driving surface," he said. "We have been battling potholes with this bridge deck, and this restoration and waterproofing should solve that problem."

Bush and Burchett has started from the southbound outside lane, which means all southbound traffic will be merged into the inside (passing) lane. When the outside lane is reworked, traffic will move to that lane and work will start on the southbound inside lane.

Southbound work is expected to take 30 days for both lanes. Then the crew will move to the northbound outside lane, repeating the process, which should take another 30 days.

The speed limit will be reduced to 45 miles per hour in the work zone, with double fines.

Letters to the editor

Editor:

The Citizens National Bank of Paintsville has been a long-term partner of the Robinson Scholars Program at the University of Kentucky, and the bank's support of our Scholars has had a tremendous positive impact on students in eastern Kentucky and their communities. Indeed, the annual support provided by Citizens National Bank has been instrumental in ensuring that this novel student development initiative will continue in our region.

The Robinson Scholars Program has been successful because we take a long haul approach to working with students. We begin with a high school program that prepares students for college success, and we follow that with full scholarships to UK. Thus, we are able to work with students for up to seven years as they transition from high school to college and into meaningful careers. While we stress academic leadership for Robinson Scholars, our view of student development takes into account the importance of serving our communities. Thus, all Scholars in both high school and college complete community service as a way to be actively involved in their neighborhoods. Each year, our high school and college Scholars log thousands of service hours in eastern Kentucky for projects that range from community cleanups to mentoring younger students and relief efforts after the March 2012 tornadoes that devastated several cities in the region.

We believe that keeping our youth involved in their communities is the best way to help them build a return path to eastern Kentucky after they complete college. Thus, our community service activities go beyond a benefit to individuals and organizations. In Robinson Scholars, we see community service as a way to build civic pride in our region's future leaders. In addition to helping their communities improve, students also learn important lessons about themselves and the value of helping others. Our best evidence of the net effect of our service efforts is the outstanding level of commitment our UK Scholars have shown to the region. While it is sometimes difficult for our college students to remain connected to their home counties during their time in Lexington, they still manage to do so. This past year, Robinson Scholars at UK completed more than 1,000 hours of service (nearly half of all our reported hours) in eastern Kentucky.

While our region is often framed in terms of what we don't have, it is important to think about what we do have as we build on our success as a people. What we do have is a very talented and diverse group of young people who care about eastern Kentucky. We also have many outstanding organizations and businesses that care about our communities, such as Citizens National Bank of Paintsville. Indeed, no business is more vested in the health and success of a community and its people than a community bank.

The support that Citizens National has shown Robinson Scholars during much of our history is an excellent example of how the diverse organizations in eastern Kentucky can work together to bring about positive change. A visit to the bank's Web site is instructional in showing the level of commitment to community building from this good corporate citizen. A look at the long list of civic groups and organizations that benefit from the support of Citizens National Bank of Paintsville shows that this company touches the lives of many people in eastern Kentucky, both as a critical business and a civic-minded organization.

Card of Thanks

The children of
would like to thank everyone for their thoughts and prayers during our time of bereavement.

That being his children, Arnold, Larry, Jeff and Kathy Kitchen, all of Louisa, Angel Kitchen Parker of Dover, Fla., Joyce Kitchen Collier and Randy Kitchen, both of Columbus, Ohio, and our little brother, Clifford Ray Kitchen Jr., who left us before our Dad died.

All is appreciated and we would like to thank everyone.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, APRIL

If roses grow in heaven
Lord,
Please pick a bunch for me.
Place them in my daughter's arms,
And tell her they are from me.
Tell her I love her and miss her,
And when she turns to smile,
Please place a kiss upon her cheek,
And hold her for a while.
Because remembering her is easy,
I do it every day.
But, there is an ache within my heart
That will never go away.

We love and miss you to the moon and back.

*Mom, Dad, Megan, Alison, Brian,
Jess, Martin, and Madison*

In Memory of
NANCY CAROL ALLEY
who went to her home in Heaven
August 20, 2012

I thought of you with love today,
But that is nothing new.
I thought about you yesterday,
And days before that,
too.

I often speak your name,
For all I have are memories,
And your pictures in a frame.
Your memory is my keepsake,
With which I'll never part.
God has you in his keeping,
I have you in my heart.

Sadly missed by husband, family, and many friends

Windows XP pending death is quickly approaching

by Kim Komando

Kim Komando hosts the nation's largest talk radio show about consumer electronics, computers and the Internet.

On April 8, 2014, it's the "end of life" for Windows XP. Now, that doesn't mean XP will suddenly stop working. You can keep using it if you want, but I wouldn't recommend it.

End of life means Microsoft won't be releasing any more security updates to the average user. Any security flaws that hackers find won't be fixed. Your computer will be a sitting duck, even with security software installed.

I know many die-hard XP users are cynical about this news. They think Microsoft is trying to force people buy new computers. Microsoft is in business to make money, so it does want people to upgrade. But in Microsoft's defense, this isn't something special for XP.

Microsoft has done the same with Windows 95, 98 and Me. Vista's end of life is April 11, 2017 and Windows 7's is January 14, 2020. In fact, Microsoft extended XP's end-of-life date several times. XP should have been gone years ago.

Here's a fun fact: XP first appeared at the end of 2001. As late as 2010, computers were still sold with XP installed. Windows Vista, which arrived 6 years after XP, only lasted until 2011.

If you think about it, XP will be nearly 13 years old. Like a teenager, it's having trouble adjusting to the world. In spite of a major overhaul with Service Pack 3, XP just wasn't built for the modern digital age.

It's missing key security features introduced in Windows Vista. It can't support the latest, safest and most Web-compatible versions of Internet Explorer. It can't take full advantage of the latest hardware advances.

It's becoming increasingly frustrating for customers and third-party companies. Many third-party companies would love to stop supporting XP. It takes a lot of time and money to make sure programs and hardware work on every version of Windows.

This even affects the Internet. Web developers will be overjoyed to see XP-only Internet Explorer versions 6, 7 and 8 go away. Those versions are so far behind other browsers, you practically have to write another website just for them.

It's going to be a serious change for many people. In most cases it's going to mean a new computer, upgraded software and possibly new accessories like printers and scanners.

And there's an even bigger problem.

Until last year, upgrading wouldn't have been quite so bad. Windows 7 was still fairly close to Windows XP in look and how it worked. In fact, I expect Windows 7 to be the next Windows version that people stick with for quite a while.

Now, however, Windows 8 is the only operating system available on new computers. When you try it, you'll find that it's radically different from previous Windows versions.

The interface was meant for touch-screen tablets and doesn't work that well with keyboard and mouse. In fact, even finding the Desktop is an adventure in itself.

The Windows 8.1 update coming out next month will allow you to NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Warfield resident Chelsea Stepp, 20, who auditioned for the 2012 "Road to Fame" competition, has debuted her first full-length album entitled "Paper Airplane" on iTunes.

Stepp is a singer/songwriter and also operates the Rockin' Ice Cream Van-Sweets & Treats that routinely travels throughout the Martin County and neighboring areas to deliver cool refreshments.

Stepp was noticed in the 2012 competition by Bernard Porter, president of Premiere Career Guidance (PCG) of Nashville, and signed her as a development client to help her realize her full potential as a client.

"I noticed Chelsea's special gifts immediately. She is a true singer/songwriter with a fresh new sound," Porter said in a press release making the announcement. "I knew when we applied our development platforms that she would excel. She is the full package and has a bright future ahead. I encourage all East Kentuckians to rally behind her and purchase her record."

Stepp has been developing in Nashville for the past year at PCG, and on Aug. 31 signed with Lyrick Promotions LTD, the same promoter who signed Lawrence County's Kelsie May.

Stepp posted on the Lyrick Promotions LTD Facebook page that there will be a talent quest held by Lyrick Promotions LTD President John Carlin at the Mountain Arts Center in Prestonsburg on Sept. 14, and that she will be performing as a guest before the show begins at 7 p.m.

There will also be an album release party held at Lizzie B's Cafe' in Prestonsburg from 10:30 p.m. to 12 a.m. the same night, during which Stepp will have the stage and invites others to come see her after the show.

bring back some of the old Windows. Microsoft will even include a tutorial on how to use Windows 8 - finally. But it's still a steep learning curve, especially coming from XP.

You can find copies of Windows 7 for sale online. You can install it on your current computer - assuming it isn't too old. You could also buy a Windows 8 computer and downgrade.

Just be aware that you can't do an in-place upgrade from XP to 7. You will have to wipe your hard drive and install Windows 7 from scratch. If you buy an upgrade version of Windows 7, you will need Windows XP installation discs to prove that you are eligible. Whatever you do, start planning now. April will be coming up fast and you don't want to be still using XP when it arrives.

Now, you might hear there's a slim chance Microsoft could continue releasing security updates for XP. It is under contract to some companies to provide them for the next few years. However, that's a paid option and I wouldn't hold your breath that Microsoft will make those updates public.
